KAIROS 81-82

To everything
there is a season,
and a time to
every purpose
under the heaven:

A time to be born,
a time to die;

a time to break down,
a time to build up;

a time to weep,
a time to laugh;
a time to mourn,
a time to rejoice;

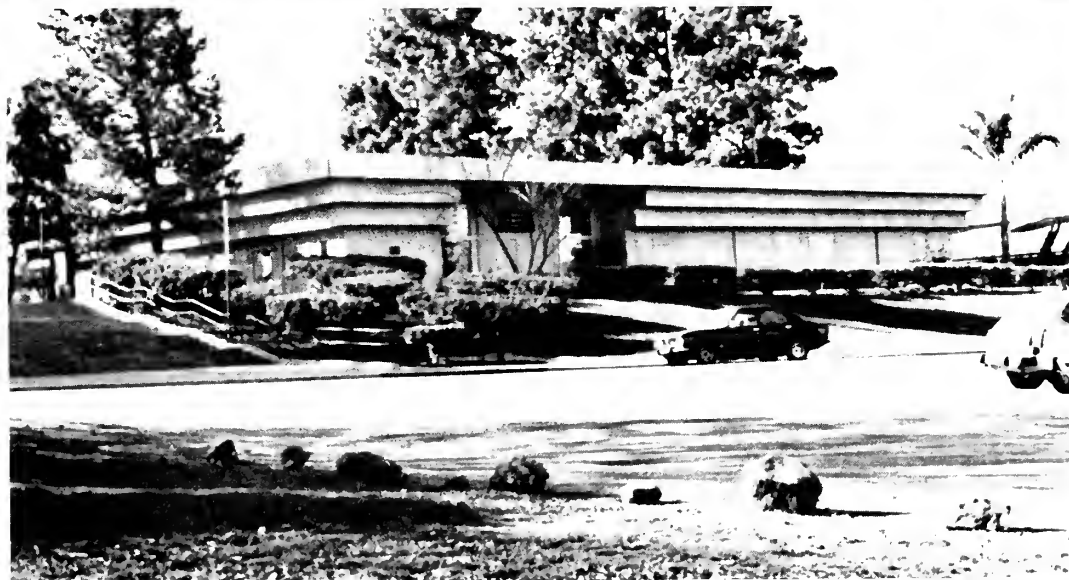

a time to embrace,
a time to refrain
from embracing;

a time to get,
a time to lose;
a time to keep;
a time to
cast away;

a time to
keep silence,
a time to
speak;

a time to love,
a time to hate; a time of war,
a time of peace...

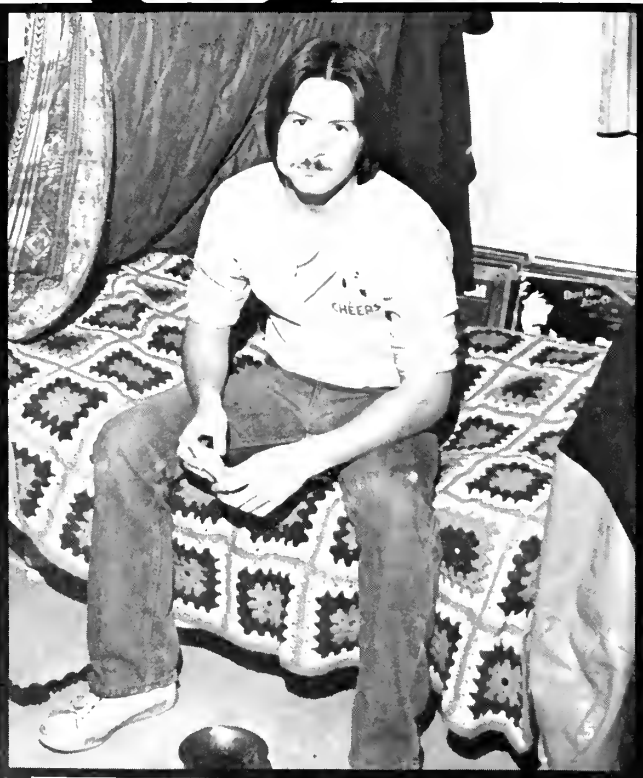

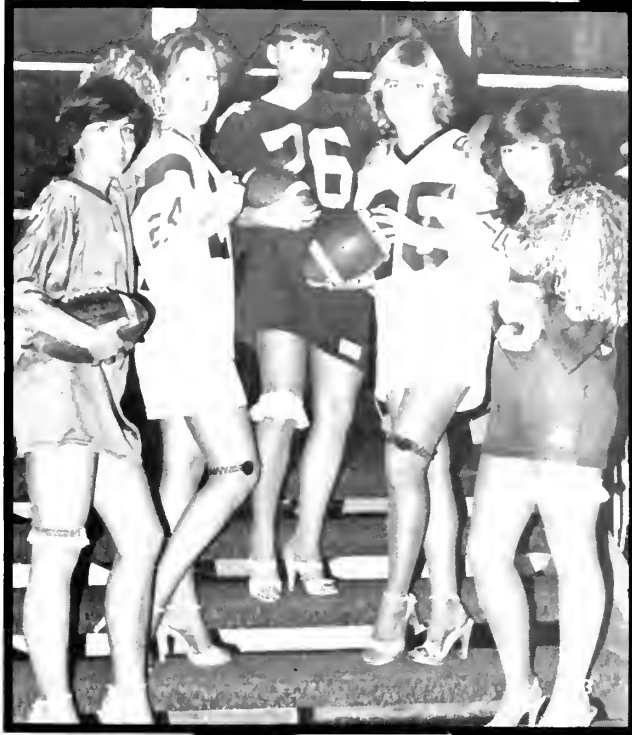

a time to grow...

Activities

Homecoming always brings a sense of excitement to CLC and this year it was especially exciting as a senior to see the growth and changes we as a college have made in my four years. It was great to observe the Alumni and their dedication to CLC and all the families and friends that come and share it with us. I have had the greatest learning experiences while attending CLC whether it be intellectually, socially, or spiritually. There is a certain CLC spirit that lingers in and around our small campus and I hope I can always be reminded of it as I visit it in years to come. I will never forget the fun times, laughs, and smiles that were shared or the challenges that we all experienced. Thanks for making Homecoming 1981 special for me. — Kaaren Johnson

Lucia Bride

The Lucia Bride ceremony is a meaningful part of the CLC community's Christmas celebration. Through that we are reminded of God's concern for the poor and the ways we can be instruments of Christ's love to those who suffer spiritual and physical poverty. Ms. Nancy Bullard, last year's Lucia Bride began the 1981 ceremony by retelling the legend of St. Lucia. St. Lucia was an Italian woman who is remembered for her dedication to the caring of God's poor. Her memory has been preserved through the St. Lucia Christmas ceremony which was adopted by the Swedish in remembrance of a woman like St. Lucia who distributed food in Sweden amidst a terrible famine. Every Christmas, the CLC community also distributes their resources to the famined parts of the world by embracing an area of particular unrest as the focus for a special offering. This year, the offering went to the Ethiopian refugees who fled their homes to live in the Somaliian refugee camps. The Christmas festivities also included an examination of the continued nuclear arms build-up as it relates to the Christmas of "peace on earth". At the end of the ceremony, each person in the audience held a lit candle as a symbol of the light of Christ which empowers each person to be an instrument of peace in our world.

France . . .

New ideas, new foods, and new places, not mention a new language, were all part of our Interim in France. From Molière comedy to modern French film, from Notre Dame to Centre Georges Pompidou, Paris was infinitely varied. For the French, children playing at the local chateau or going to high mass at Chartres is taken as much for granted as Chinon's nuclear power plant or watching "Dallas" on Saturday night. Living with families in Saumur for two weeks gave us this personal contact with French culture; and just going to school or the supermarket became a cultural experience. But after culture shock came the discovery that the two peoples are not that unlike afterall and that we can share our similarities and learn from our differences.

. . . Spain

Suitcase, traveler's cheques, passport, and camera in hand, Dr. Asper, Professor Hanson, and eight of us eager CLC students spent January exploring Spain, Portugal, and Morocco. Prior to traveling to these three countries, castles, cathedrals, Catholic Shrines, Roman ruins, Moorist architecture, the Straits of Gibraltar, and Casbahs were things we had only encountered through our reading. Much of Spain consists of sprawling olive tree orchards, impressive cathedrals, picturesque small towns, and bustling cities. Like the Spaniards, a continental breakfast, paella, cruz campo cerveza, a siesta, an evening walk followed by a 9:30 PM dinner became a way of life for us. In Portugal we toured the city of Lisbon, Fatima (a Catholic shrine where three girls saw the image of the Virgin Mary) and an eerie chapel constructed with the bones of dead monks. In the fishing village of Nazare we watched the colorful fishing boats go out to sea at dawn. Morocco is an Islamic nation where the French colonial legacy remains strong. It was not uncommon to see jeans and tennis shoes worn underneath jellabas (traditional hooded robes). While strolling through the souk (marketplace) we were easily identified as tourists which made us fair prey to zealous guides and enterprising shopkeepers. We were extremely fortunate to be entertained in Moroccan homes for several sumptuous and traditional meals. Along with a myriad of photos and perhaps an overabundance of souvenirs, we returned to the states with lifelong memories.

South Africa. The name alone makes one think of dark jungles, lots of ferocious animals and strange food. That's the picture I had in mind when our group of nine, led by Dr. James Esmay, set off for an economic tour of South Africa. The trip, which included two days in Madrid, Spain, three days in Zimbabwe and two days in Swaziland was an enlightening experience for me. There were no dark jungles but rather open spaces and lots of farmland. The meals were not too out of the ordinary although we did get to try such delicacies as buffalo, roast bushpig, kudu liver pate' and ostrich. The South African people were very friendly and outgoing. We had the opportunity to speak with some of them and to hear how the South Africans feel about South Africa. It proved to be an educational experience, one I will not soon forget. I was glad to have the opportunity to see this beautiful country for myself.

A Semester In South America

"Los Primeros Solos"

Six students spent Spring semester studying in South America and the South Seas. The following excerpts were taken from postcards sent home:

Carolyn Tynan "It is like Mr. Toad's wild ride. I have never driven through water falls before ... Yesterday it rained 18 hours straight, I did not care, my feet were warm and Cuzco's a magic place. I climbed Huaynu Picchu alone and it was great to feel so close to such a sacred place. Some of us climbed the Inca trail to the summit. Definitely one of the best things I've done in my life."

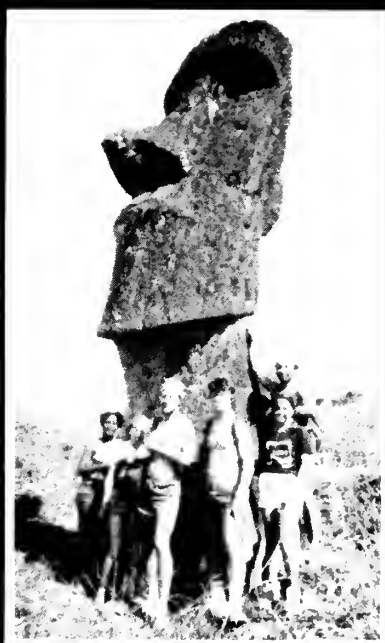

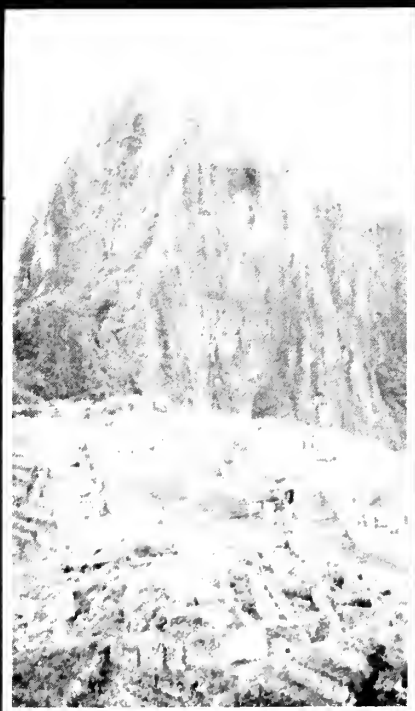

Paul Neuhaus - "Being isolated on Easter Island, without phones, newspapers or cars, all allowed me to evaluate the semester and my responsibility in a global society ... Our cab driver had 3 flat tires. It was dark and raining so we flagged down a big dump truck who took us the rest of the way ... I became aware of the churches in the United States and their relationship, or lack of, to the rest of the world ... Maria reiche, at the Nazca Plains, impressed us with her youthful zeal for her commitment to the researching and caring for the uins ... Machu Picchu was great!"

Sharon Riley - "Our trip together has been grand and the "support System" for each other has worked well. Everything came together ... What a great way to learn ... When you can be there and have all your senses working."

Dana Flowers - "Having to adjust has been hard at times but the hardest times are the best ... Almost like starting college again ... La Paz is a great place for weavings ... I have a lot of paintings in mind ... We've all grown up a lot."

Myrna Cook - "I love Peru ... The people and how they really are trying to improve their living conditions."

David Martinez - "It's amazing what "primitive people" could do so intelligently ... This trip is truly a once in a lifetime chance to grow in every way possible ... I am really getting used to the heights ... I have lost some poundage, but gained in the brain ... This is the best school semester I have ever had."

Artist Lecture

Stuart Winchester, Artist Lecture Commissioner felt the past year's events were diverse and of a high quality. Committee members Bob Bushacher, Doug Page, Marva Hall, Tina Ziegler and Paul Martin were instrumental in making the program successful. The theme American Mosaic was followed through with variety of films and speakers which included Apocalypse Now, Rocky, The Godfather, Elephant Man, Edwin Moses, Dr. Willian Stringfellow and Nelson Trout. Cultural events included a Classical Jazz group and the Ballet Folklorico Mexicapan. There was some controversy over the film "Last Tango in Paris" which the committee had chosen, for the film section of the series. The film was banned at the last minute by President Miller, who felt the film should not be shown on campus. Certainly the debate which ensued from the protests against Last Tango gave students an opportunity to voice their opinions. Students should look forward to such opportunities as a means to affect decision-making at CLC.

Kingsmen Remain District Champs

A strong showing by the defense lead the 1981 Kingsmen, "Year of the Champions V," to another NAIA district III title. This was the ninth straight district championship for the men in Purple and Gold. Defensive standouts were All-American and district III Player of the Year, Tad Wygal, All-District players Tim Fabell, Tom Coony, Kent Jorgensen, Jeff Orlando and Chris Forbes. The offense led by the passing combination of Craig Moropoulos to Tim Lins and the running of Jim Kearny took the Kingsmen to an 8-2 record. The highlight of the season came when CLC won four games straight against State schools!

— Kent Jorgensen

Soccer Shows Superb Talent

Finishing the season strongly, the CLC soccer team advanced to the divisional playoffs for the first time since the program began. By defeating league rivals, LA Baptist and Biola in the last two games of the season, the team finished with a 12-6 record and fourth place in the league. Opening with a tough schedule, the team got off to a slow start, but quickly pulled together to play solid soccer for the remainder of the season. The team was under the leadership of coaches Peter Schraml and Shaun Roche.

Regals Go To AIAW Nationals

Coach Dale Smith and his regals made this their year by winning the AIAW Division 3 Region 8 competition at University of Redlands on November 6, 1981. Coach Smith had maintained right from the start that he had a winning team, but even he was a little surprised at his Regals' success in the 5 kilometer regional race. All six Regal runners placed in the top 15, with both Cathy Fulkerson and Marian Mallory earning All-Regional honors. As returning runners, Fulkerson and Mallory were the backbone of the team, but much talent fleshed the team out. Senior Sue Shay and Junior Donna Johnson added depth, with Johnson becoming the fastest first year runner ever, breaking Mallory's old record. Freshmen Carole Strand and Heidi Behling rounded out the team with strong performances. Though extremely adverse weather kept the Regals from running their best at the AIAW Nationals in Pocatello, Idaho, the team was nevertheless proud of their season's performance. This was truly the "Year of the Regals." Graduating Senior Cathy Fulkerson ended her dynasty as CLC's premier distance runner by receiving "Most Valuable" honors. "Most Outstanding" was awarded to Junior Marian Mallory; "Most Improved" was given to Donna Johnson. Fulkerson and Mallory were also honored as this year's team captains.

Harriers Enjoy Fine Season

The 1981 Men's Cross Country team, coached by Don Green, experienced their finest season ever in CLC history. Off to an impressive start, the team won both the Las Vegas and Westmont Invitationals. The Harriers proved to be district contenders as they won all six of their dual meets. Later in the season, the Kingsmen defeated eleven teams, placing them second in the Biola Invitational. In the District meet, the team dashed to a second place finish, with Jon Balck, Dave Maxwell, and Ron Ysais qualifying for the NAIA National Championships held in Kenosha, Wisconsin. Black and Ysais made the All-District First Team while Maxwell and Mark Pashky were awarded All-District Second Team honors.

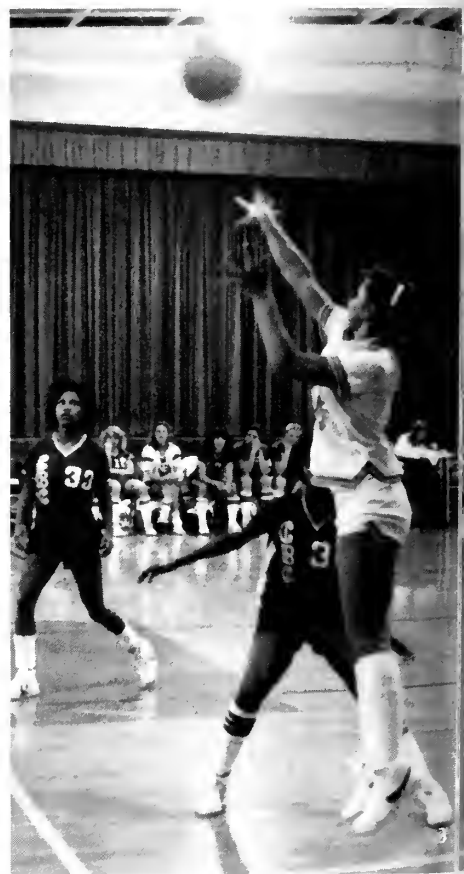

— Jon Black

Regals Set New Records

Dubbed a "rebuilding year" by Coach Cris Lund, the 1981-82 Women's Basketball team had its share of superstars. Setting a new school record for points scored, Lisa Sanchez also led the team in shots taken and assists. Carrie Landsgaard added her offensive powers and shared the MVP honors with Sanchez. Freshman Susan Luke broke the record books, smashing the existing season rebound record. Freshman Karen Pitman claimed Most Improved Honors for the 81-82 season. Captains of the Regals were junior Tara Hove and senior Wendy Nielsen.

— Wendy Nielsen

Kingsmen Win Oaks Classic

The 1981-82 Kingsmen basketball team started out impressively. The team started the season off with a handful of successive victories which included a first place finish in the first annual Oaks Classic (held over Thanksgiving) for which CLC was the host. Over Christmas the team flew up north to participate in the Chico St. tournament. Mid-January found the Kingsmen opening up what proved to be a very tough league schedule which featured two games against Biola, the top rated NAIA team in the nation. The Kingsmen finished their season with a thirteen and eighteen record which included a number of nail biting defeats. Two players, freshman sensation Dave Lareva and lone senior Jim Dodwell, were named to the all-star squad.

Lisa Roberts takes a deserved water break between games. 4. Wendy Welsch passes the ball to the outside of the court in order to set up a hit. 5. Carolyn Tynan sets the ball to Liz Hoover.

Regals Place Ninth In Tourney

Finishing their season with the best record ever of 20-6, the Woman's Volleyball Team topped it off with an invitation to the National AIAW Tournament. Led by Senior captains Carol Ludicke and Lisa Roberts, the Regals finished second in league behind UCSD and the highlight of the season was defeating Azusa Pacific, the defending national champion in Division III. The Regals finished ninth in the nation under second year coach Don Hyatt.

Men's Volleyball Has Great Season

The 1982 Men's Volleyball Team worked together to produce its finest season record ever. At 17-1, the team found little difficulty in soundly tromping most opponents. The single loss came in a close match at the hands of a scrappy Pomona-Pitzer team on the Kingsmen's home court. Earlier in the season, CLC defeated Pomona on their home court. The key to the team's success was definitely teamwork. A strong spirit of continuity prevailed as each player did his part to contribute each time the Kingsmen took to the court. Seniors Alan Naeole and Dave Puls led the team as co-captains and in their middle hitting and blocking. Mike Tyson and Steve Dryer were extremely affective as outside hitters, while Mike Adams displayed superb setting ability. Unfortunately, the team suffered the loss of junior Chuck Duval to an ankle injury. His replacement, Jay Hoffman, stepped into big shoes to fill the gap left by Chuck. Eligibility problems made an unsuccessful bid to unshurp the spikers from the winning trail as transfer Mark Donalson was found ineligible midway through the season. Again, effective substitution by Coach Don Hyatt made up for his loss. Other players, instrumental in the teams success and offering promise for the following year are junior Paul Martin and freshman Blake Mueller and Bob Fish.

Softball Team Recruits New Members

The 1982 Regal Softball team, led by Carey Snyder, was a season of rebuilding. Only three players returned from the previous season. Wendy Nielsen, the only returning senior, earned the honor of MVP for her efforts as the only Regal pitcher. Nielsen also won the highest RBI record. At second base Linda Giffin rallied for unity and encouraged the team on the field. Behind the plate Cheri Lucas did an excellent job and was the leader on the field. Kathy McDonnell, captain of the team, was a steadying influence on the fielders with her outstanding fielding skills. Both Kathy and Cheri were elected the most dedicated players by their teammates. Eilleen Paulson did a good job at first base digging out some tough plays. From left field Tara Hove led the outfield with her enthusiasm and great plays. Tracy Worsham in centerfield always provided the needed hits. In rightfield and off the field, Betty Luttrell kept the team spirits high. Diana Catis shared rightfield duties and won the Most Improved Player award. Lori Galbreath did an outstanding job as the team's designated hitter. Tina Ordonez, though she came late in the season, did a good job both defensively and offensively. Through recruiting and the loss of only two players, the Regals were looking forward to more productive seasons.

Baseball Enjoys A Fine Season

This year was the best ever for CLC golf. Five of the six players were competing for their third straight year at CLC. The addition of junior transfer Greg Osborne along with the talents of Bob Bushacher, Paul Sailer, Dave LaBella, Eric Jensen, Jim Fitzpatrick and Stuart Winchester made for a well-rounded talented team. The team got off to a great start with an 8-0 record but met tough opposition in Hawaii against the University of Hawaii Hilo. There were some minor setbacks that followed but the constant exposure to tough competition was excellent preparation for the National Championship qualifying. The 36 hole qualifying was a close battle even through Osborne played with a serious knee injury. Unfortunately the team finished second by five shots behind Redlands University. Winchester finished second individually making the All-district team along with Jensen. Even though the team finished second, their application to go to the National Championship in North Carolina was accepted by the NAIA. But because of an outdated college policy, Dean Schramm on the recommendation from Dr. Doering overruled the athletic policy's board decision to allow us to go. Stuart Winchester, Team Captain and Academic All-American summed up the team's disappointment by stating, "To think the college would not allow us to represent this institution in a national tournament is incredulous and shows their lack of concern for a team that worked hard to make CLC golf a national contender.

Men's Tennis Has A Great Season

Speardog, Bleach, T, Ozzie, Grrr., Howdy, Bowie, Spew, and Bill. Bill? Bill came out late from basketball. He'll get the name doctor someday. Faced with four Marks on the roster made team screaming easy. However, pointed fury missed its mark. So Coach Spewman attached nicknames. Captain Mark Spearman had a remarkable season. Compiling a 10-5 individual record. Mark became the first CLC tennis player to make the All District First Team. Mark Henderscheid (Bleach), the white hope, playing number 2 throughout the year. Bleach had 13 wins and 7 losses in singles. He and Spearman teamed up at number one doubles and posted the best doubles record for the year. Thayne Martin (T.) rounded out the first three on the team and helped make the squad strong at the top. Martin put together a 13-10 singles record. Freshman Mark Ledebur (Ozzie) played in the number four spot. Ledebur plunged into college tennis and nearly played .500 ball. Discovered by talent scouts in a beginning tennis class only a year before, Jon Gerlach (Grrr.) showed tremendous improvement and broke only three rackets in the process. Rusty Crosby (Howdy) shared Most Improved honors with Gerlach. Bill Burgess, and Bowie Hahn helped fill in for players out with injuries.

Rockcliffe Qualifies For Nationals

The Regals track and field team had both a large roster and an impressive year. Coach Scott Rich inspired 23 women to compete for Cal Lutheran's honor, and together he and his team were able to do such things as: Easily win a triangular meet (76) against Azusa Pacific (46) and U.C. San Diego (33), February 20, 1982. Squeak out a cliffhanger at the Regal Relays, beating second place Azusa Pacific by one point, March 13, 1982. Trounce all 6 opposing teams at the Westmont Warrior Relays, scoring 82 points to Azusa's 68 and La Verne's 26. Beth Rockcliffe qualified for and attended the AIAW Nationals held in Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania. Though a heavy favorite to win in both the javelin and heptathlon competition, heavy rain and wind held her to a third in the javelin (129' 4") and second in the heptathlon (4853 points). Rockcliffe earned All-American honors in both events. Sue Fornoff was honored as the team's "Most Inspirational"; freshman Sal Beltran was named "All Everything"; distance runner Marian Mallory received the "Coach's Award"; Beth Rockcliffe and Coreen Lane shared "Most Valuable"; and Lane and Martha Brownlee were honored as this season's team captains. The Regals will be led next season by team captains Coreen Lane, Marian Mallory, and Beth Rockcliffe.

— Beth Rockcliffe and Mirian Mallory

The men's track and field team enjoyed a fine season. Winning the Kingsmen Relays for the eighth straight year and taking first place honors at the Westmont Invitational early in the season, indicated the squad was off to a great start. During the season the Kingsmen broke two school records. Sprinter Dave Geist lowered the 400 meter record of 48.7 to 47.9 and Jon Black topped over seven minutes off last year's marathon mark, setting a 2:21:06 for the 26-plus mile event. At the district meet, the Kingsmen exhibited excellent performances as all but four team members placed. However, the tracksters lacked the depth necessary to win the title and settled for a third place finish. The Kingsmen qualified three athletes to the NAIA National Championships in Charleston, West Virginia. Black placed seventh in the marathon, Geist made it to the semi-finals in the 400-meter run, and sophomore Matt Carney captured 11th place in the decathlon.

Drama Club

The CLC Drama Club has been a strong organization on the campus since 1965. The Club sponsors the annual Drama Awards Banquet and a touring children's storybook theatre troupe. The members of the club also sponsor a National Dramatic Fraternity, Alpha Psi Omega and membership is by a point system working in the technical and acting areas. The Drama Club also sponsors movies, concerts and special events on the campus throughout the school year, including storybook theatre—a children's improvisational troupe which performed for President and Nancy Reagan. We also toured several countries and arranged a ski trip to Poland.

Business Association

The California Lutheran College Business Association was unique this year in the fact that it was the first year with all females in office. The officers for this year were: Lisa Owens, president; Sharlene Buchanan, vice-president; Kathleen Griffin, treasurer; Sharon Palmer, recording secretary; and Gail Bowen, corresponding-secretary.

A couple activities for the year were a beach party and a pizza night. The Business Association had many successful fund-raisers; the most successful being a trip to the CBS Studios participating in the television game show, Tattletales. Another fund-raiser was the Alumni Association sponsored Phonarama. In addition to fund raisers the Student Business Services, chaired by Reggie Degner, contributed much time and effort to the community and Business Association. Also the Business Association sponsored speakers for our meetings and for seminars such as the Women in Business Seminar and the Senior Survival Series. We had a Student/Teacher Forum as well. To help the CLC community, the Business Association contributed funds to improve the Business section of our library. In conclusion, it was said to be a constructive and fun year.

The Bread for the World group is one of the Mission Groups offered by the Lord of Life Church at CLC, and it is affiliated informally with the national Christians citizens' movement in the U.S.A. which is known by the same name. The focus is three-fold: 1) Worship through prayer and Bible study, 2) Study of the root causes of hunger, potential solutions to these causes, and personal responses which correspond appropriately in four areas: knowledge, lifestyle, church life, and politics, 3) Action against hunger-this takes place through fundraising efforts and the education of and organization of hunger-relief efforts.

KRCL

KRCL 1981-82

This year it was realized how important KRCL is to the Communication Arts program. KRCL was a learning experience this year for the disc jockeys and staff. KRCL had its ups and downs, but the enthusiasm of the people involved in the station made the year a successful one. Don Haskell's constant support and willingness to help was a great asset. You will be missed Don. KRCL would like to thank all of the students who gave us a listen.
